Garrett Holmes

Vice-President of Finance

Alaska Conference of Seventh-day Adventists

Garrett Holmes joined Administrative team of the Alaska Conference in June 2024. Previously he served in the Mid-America Union Conference as associate treasurer for the MAUC beginning July 1, 2020. Holmes, who holds a Bachelor of Business Administration with a concentration in accounting from Andrews University, has been employed by the General Conference Auditing Service for the last five years, where he worked his way from an internship to holding the title of Audit Senior and serving the Adventist Church not only in Mid-America territory but also on both East and West Coasts, Canada and Italy.

During his time at Andrews University, Holmes worked in Financial Records in their Accounts Payable department. Between his junior and senior year at Andrews, he worked as a task force intern at the Hawaii Conference for 10 months where he started learning how the Seventh-day Adventist Church's accounting departments operate. In addition to his work and studies, Holmes enjoys going on adventures, traveling and creating memories with his family and friends.
