Pastor’s Corner: When there is a tornado warning, that is a call to move to a place of safety. As Christians, we sometimes feel heeding a tornado warning is giving into fear, but God tells us to fear not. The story is told of a Christian who was urged by friends to take her babies into a closet during a recent storm. She felt as if she were giving into fear that she had declared no longer existed but eventually she moved into a dark hall closet. While in the closet she was reminded of things from the past. She found things she had been looking for, things she thought were gone forever. She found a banner she once made with a Bible verse from Isaiah. It was made when she first found her great faith in God. As she stood in the closet, she found great peace and forgot all about fear. She found the roots of her faith. Sometimes God uses dark places, scary situations, and things from the past to remind us of who He is. We should always remember the source of our faith who mercifully takes away all fear. We should always give God all honor and glory for all He gives and all He takes away. Psalm 9:9 reminds us that the Lord is a refuge and a stronghold in times of trouble. In troubled times like these, may we all find peace in the presence of our protector Jesus.

Blessings,

Pastor Vernon
