Pastor’s Corner: What can Adventist Education do for our kids?

Scott Reiner attended Newbury Park Academy and went on to graduate from Monterey Bay Academy where he lived in the dorm. He continued his education at Pacific Union College and graduated with a degree in nursing. Over time, he worked as a nurse, then in administration, and eventually he became the CEO of Adventist Health, a multibillion-dollar health-care organization with 22 hospitals in four states. Looking back on his Academy years, Scott said, “Being at a boarding school really opens you up to learning not just about school and academics, but about life. I was surrounded by and living with people who showed me it was ‘cool’ to be a Christian.”

Jeffrey Kuhlman graduated from Collegedale Academy and went on to Southern Adventist University. From there, he became a doctor and eventually, he was asked to be the personal physician to President Barack Obama.

Nehemiah Mabry graduated from Oakwood Adventist Academy and Oakwood University. He went on to be a successful Engineer, Educator and Entrepreneur.

Louise Phanstiel is a product of Shenandoah Valley Academy. She found she had a great propensity for finance and eventually became a well-known philanthropist. She serves as Chair of the Board of Directors of Myriad Genetics, Inc., a global leader in molecular diagnostics and precision medicine. She was recently named to Women Inc’s list of Most Influential Women.

These stories are from the book, “Thriving, 31 Stories on the Impact of Adventist Education” by Aimee Saesim Leukert a professor of Education at La Sierra University.

Blessings, Jann Gentry

Deadline is Extended!

Families sacrifice to send their children to Christian schools and we know that those kids get excited about learning about God. We want them to be excited about where they're living, too.

Success Breeds Success

Everyone wants to believe they are part of something wonderful, successful and meaningful and now you can be a part, too!

Fortunately, with renovations coming, many more students can stay in nice places while they study.

Dakota Adventist Academy ranks in the TOP THREE for all Christian high schools in North Dakota--That's amazing! We need to continue renovating dorm rooms so everyone can come and live comfortably.

Here's your chance to help until our extended deadline of October 31!

To renovate one dorm room will cost $2,000--that means new flooring, new paint, new light fixtures. You get to pick the room; it can have your name on it, or the names of several people, or the name of your church. You can help decorate it. A student will have updated accommodations, and the enhanced ability to concentrate on their studies. You will feel better knowing that you are a part of something very, very successful.

Today is a good day to donate!

Every church in the Dakota Conference will have the opportunity to have a room named for them. There will also be rooms named for individual donors. Students from your church get first pick on the room you adopt. This is an awesome opportunity to make a striking difference in someone's life. Your gift of any amount will help.

You can send a check, made out to Dakota Adventist Academy, to 15905 Sheyenne Circle, Bismarck, ND 58503-9256. Please put "Dorm room renovation" in the memo. If you have questions or want to talk more about it, call the academy at 701-258-9000 or email info@myDAA.org.

Please help. Our students deserve the best in Christian education, from the classes they take to the places they sleep.
