Visit from Oreo

Last Thursday, Connie Reitan, a representative from Service Dogs for America, came to visit the school. The third graders recently read a book about the first seeing eye dog, so we contacted this organization in Jud, ND to see about getting someone to visit and teach us. Ms. Reitan brought an 82-pound lab named Oreo who is currently being trained, not as a seeing eye dog, but as a service dog who will one day assist someone suffering from post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). The students and staff enjoyed watching Oreo respond to various commands. One thing demonstrated which was very interesting was when Ms. Reitan pretended she was having a panic attack. Oreo had been resting on his blanket and when he heard the distress sounds coming from her, he immediately hopped up and put his paws on her shoulders to offer comfort. Ms. Reitan showed how to use a clicker to quickly teach Oreo a new trick. Other service dogs available are mobility assistance dogs, seizure response/medical response dogs, and diabetic alert dogs. This organization is currently using inmates at two correctional facilities in the state to help train and socialize the dogs—a benefit to both dogs and inmates. The newest program (still upcoming) is going to provide service dogs to be placed in courthouses to provide comfort and security for vulnerable individuals testifying at trials.

Amen Pantry

Thanks to those who have generously donated items for our upcoming visit to Amen in April. We will be happy to take more, but it’s already going to be a great haul to take to share!

March Social this Saturday night!

We hope you will join us for the next school social this weekend. We are calling it the March March, Movie, Munchies, and Maxball. We will begin with vespers at 5:30 for which the students have a few things to share, and we will be showing an inspiring film. Following that we will have some munchies (please bring food to share potluck-style) and then our March March led by the Wrights. We will end the evening with a rousing game of Maxball (it’s fun and anyone can play or you can watch and cheer the players on).

Wells Fargo Visit

A bank VP from a local branch of Wells Fargo came to visit each class on Tuesday. Mrs. Sherri Bernshied talked to the students about the importance of budgeting so we can live within our means and take care of needs before wants.
